NOTICE TO THE PARTIES

McMahon, J.:

In the draft decision dated May 13, 2015 that was provided to the Government for security clearance review, the court identified a number of documents that OLC, CIA and DOD were required to produce for in camera review. The agencies did provide those documents to the court, and they have been reviewed. While it was originally my intention to draft a separate opinion containing those rulings, it quickly became clear that it would be much easier to insert those rulings into the May 13 draft decision, and I did so. The original rulings (the ones requiring the in camera production of the documents) remain in the text, followed by a "Ruling After In Camera Review."

The court is today providing the Government with a revised decision for security review; I assume that can happen in a matter of days, since the Government has been working off the old draft for more than a month. I would like to sign off on a final version with all security notations before the end of this month.
